

MARCH FOR SCIENCE-OMAHA

WEEK OF ACTION

APRIL 23-29, 2017

WEDNESDAY

SCIENCE CREATES

"Science is for everyone."

#STEAM & #SIY (SCIENCE IT YOURSELF)

IMPACT

Check out these websites: Folding at home and Zooniverse

EDUCATION

Investigate a lesson at Khan Academy or Coursera

SUNDAY

SCIENCE ENGAGES

"A movement in motion stays in motion."

#KEEPMARCHING

IMPACT

Join a local group that promotes science and critical thinking: OMAHA, Omaha Astronomical Society, and R.E.A.S.O.N. are a few.

EDUCATION

Check out Camp Quest, in Kansas City or make plans to attend Science Café

THURSDAY

SCIENCE COMMUNICATES

"Science isn't finished until you share it."

#SCICOMM #SHAREYOURSCIENCE

IMPACT

Let the Omaha World Herald and the local TV stations know you would like to see more science-based journalism.

EDUCATION

Subscribe to a science magazine (e.g. Scientific American) or visit the website of the National Science Foundation.

MONDAY

SCIENCE DISCOVERS

"What can we learn next?"

#EVERYKIDSASCIENTIST

IMPACT

Donate to Omaha Children's Museum or Fontanelle Forest

EDUCATION

Go to Spielbound and challenge your brain with a game.

FRIDAY

SCIENCE ADVOCATES

"Science is a work in progress."

#FUTUREOFSCIENCE #MARGINSCI

IMPACT

Find your state legislator and write them about the importance of funding science.

EDUCATION

Discuss science beyond the classroom.

TUESDAY

SCIENCE EMPOWERS

"Science is everywhere. Let's keep it that way."

#EVERYDAYSCIENCE

IMPACT

Write or call your representatives to support evidence-based science in legislation and the school curriculum.

EDUCATION

Learn how to protect pets and wildlife

SATURDAY

SCIENCE CONNECTS

"Support science in your community."

#SCIENCEINACTION

IMPACT

Attend the Omaha People's Climate March 12:00 noon at Gene Leahy Mall

EDUCATION

Go to Lauritzen Gardens, Glacier Creek Preserve or another local nature preserve.